CLEARANCE LEVEL PUBLIC - DO NOT SPREAD

Discipline On-Duty

The CIB requires agents to maintain a proper, mature attitude while on duty. The CIB also requires you to abide by simple guidelines, while on duty, off duty, or even while on operations.

The CIB trusts you with information nobody knows. This means that while off duty, on duty, or during operations, you are not permitted to spread this information.

Keep in mind that spreading information without DIRECT CIB HiCommand approval will result in severe punishment - information will be distributed by the CIB Deputy Director and above.

Under no circumstance will any agent have any reason to approach another agent about information without CIB HiCom+ giving both agents direct orders to collaborate. If a situation arises where an agent is approached by someone looking for information, immediately DM the CIB Deputy Director+ with information.

CIB Dress Code

As CIB currently doesn't have any official uniforms, members of the CIB are permitted to wear their military uniforms of their military rank. Alternatively, CIB members are also permitted to wear a suit of their choice, as long as the CIB Director or a member of Supreme Command can approve it.

Agents are also permitted to wear small, non-obscuring hats, facial accessories of their choice, and a pin of their choice. If you are wondering whether an accessory is appropriate, ask someone within the CIB HiCom.
